INVESTMENTS

Russian Investment Exposure

The Permanent Trust Funds (PTFs) have within their Strategic Asset Allocation (SAA) exposure to emerging markets through both international equities and absolute return strategies. Within emerging markets Russian securities represented a small fraction, about 2-3% pre-war, depending on the index referenced. Currently, Russian securities represent less than 1% and are being removed from many emerging market indices.
The PTFs exposure to Russian securities is small as a percent of the total portfolio market value at just 0.07% or approximately $4.2 million (please see below). All of the PTFs’ investments in Russian securities are in either commingled funds or mutual funds managed by external investment managers. Commingled funds, like mutual funds, have multiple investors. Consequently, the investors in commingled funds and mutual funds have no practical ability to direct the fund manager in their investment decisions. Nevertheless, from the early days of the invasion Department Staff made clear to the managers that action should be taken to divest from Russian securities and comply with government sanctions. Additionally, Department Staff required an explanation of their strategy to divest from Russian securities and comply with government sanctions.

After Department Staff discussions with the investment managers, we have concluded the following:

1. Trading in Russian securities have seized up and there is little if any trading in these securities anywhere in the world. Based on this, it will be more difficult for these fund managers to continue to divest Russian securities.
2. All our managers are closely watching sanctions and other government actions that would affect the Russian securities they currently hold. They all are determined to remain in compliance with sanctions and other relevant regulations.
3. No new investment in Russian securities is contemplated, only the orderly and prudent divestment of Russian securities is being considered.
4. Our managers are behaving prudently and responsibly and are acting in the best interests of the PTFs.
